

REPENT AUSTRALIA

*"If My people who are called by My name will humble themselves, and pray and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and heal their land."
2 Chronicles 7:14*

SIXTY GLORIOUS YEARS

On 3 June 2012 Queen Elizabeth II celebrated the 60th anniversary of her reign upon the British throne amidst much pomp and pageantry to the cheers of one million of her loyal subjects in London. Furthermore some three millions watched the ceremony on television to join in the magnificent celebrations marked by their spirit of joy and thanksgiving for such a highly honoured reign. It was an exhibition to stir the hearts of all but the hardest republican and reflected the warmest and admiration held by the vast majority of her subjects from nations across the globe.

Beguiled

Yet, sadly here in Australia we have been beguiled to sell out our full allegiance to this monarch upon whom our very system of government is based. When it was called upon for our present prime minister to give her loyalty to the monarch in whom is embodied our Christian heritage and who pledged "to maintain the laws of God and the true profession of the Gospel," our prime minister refused. This is the very Queen who receiving the Golden Orb was told, "and when you see this Orb set under the Cross, remember the whole world is subject to the power and empire of Christ our Redeemer. For He is the Prince of the kings of the earth; Kings of kings and Lord of lords, so no man can reign happily who derives not his authority from Him whom all laws are enacted". The secret of the power and authority that lie behind the British throne is not of this earth but comes from a higher source. For why, indeed, has it remained unbroken from the days of King David whose throne God promised that "His seed shall endure forever, and his throne as the sun before Me"? So it has been. The Royal throne of David has endured. The Royal Throne of Britain symbolises the authority of Jesus Christ the coming King who will some day reign over the earth.

Treason

In her ignorance, however, the prime minister of this country decided not to give her allegiance to the Queen but to "Australia". Moreover, to heighten this calumny the Governor –General accepted her false oath thus placing Australia in an illegal position. This, in effect, is nothing short of treason, the definition of which according to the King's Bench of 1917 consists of a breach allegiance that the subject owes to the Sovereign and which binds him at all times and in all places. This is the reason our Constitution has an Oath of Allegiance which has to be taken by public officials, civil servants, judiciary, politicians, military and police etc before office.

Other Instances

Furthermore, in addition to the illegality of the PM's oath there have been other instances when the establishment has committed a breach of allegiance. Firstly, when the Australia Act of 1986 was enacted no referendum was held. Secondly, in Western Australia in 2004 the Crown and Oath of Allegiance were removed but no referendum was held. Thirdly, in Victoria in 2000 the oath of Allegiance was removed from the Legal Practices Act without a referendum. These issues may seem somewhat trivial, yet they are extremely serious, for if the government cannot be held to the letter of the law and is allowed to invent unlawful and un-constitutional methods of wielding power, then no one's life or property is safe from its clutches. Through subterfuge, sleight of hand, semantics and innuendo we can become pawns in a game which can only end in our loss. Meantime, Australia is in the hands of a group of socialist ideologues with an agenda that is dictated by the United Nations and is far from serving the best interests of this country--- seen today in the massive unrestrained influx of so-called refugees and others whose allegiance lies elsewhere. In addition, there is also a second major issue that is facing the future of Australia.

Today's Quandary

Today, we are in a quandary. Being so closely situated to Asia yet still holding to our inherited European heritage we are questioning just what we are: an Asian or European country. Many people today seem inclined to believe that we are an Asian country as much of our trade and proximity to these nations is obviously evident. But are we really an Asian country? Consider these issues.

What Is a Nation?

What is a nation? Is it nothing more than a group of people or is it something more? Obviously it is more than that. It is a family of people who share the same genetic code, the same history, the same principles, the same language. They are a people of one race. On the other hand, a country is either a geographical location or a political entity. A nation can have many political divisions yet remain a nation. Australia belongs to the British family of nations. The head of this nation is the national sovereign whose present representative is Queen Elizabeth II. All members of this nation are her subjects but she is also bound by the 1688 Bill of Rights which limits her power and in conjunction with the Coronation Oath binds her to recognise the sovereignty of Jesus Christ as Lord, to uphold the Law of God and to protect her subjects. This system has proven to be the one that gives freedom to the greatest number of people over the largest area of the earth. The influence of this nation of happy and contented people has been beyond human understanding and has been eagerly sought after by others envious of its stability, prosperity and creativity.

A Dumping Place

Sadly, however, today this global nation is being used as a dumping place for all those in poorer places who are living in poverty and want. This train of events has rapidly developed since the advent of political parties who, in seeking their own power, have steadily changed our nations to suit their own personal ambitions. In doing this they imported many people of foreign descent and background having no loyalty to the Queen; people ignorant of the Constitutional monarchy; a malleable group to be manipulated by easy welfare payments to which they had made no contribution. Consequently the whole demography of the nation is being radically altered. We are no longer a homogeneous society with undivided loyalty to the Monarch and are quickly becoming more and more a polyglot community. The next move by the ambitious politicians is to convince the people that we are not really a Constitutional Monarchy but a democracy.

The Highest Law

This could mean that if 50% of the populace decided to make the politicians the highest law in the land, nothing could stop their gravy train to a new world order. Heaven forbid that their evil schemes shall succeed. Like the millions who show their loyalty at her jubilee celebrations, our nation shall remain loyal to God through Queen Elizabeth and her ancestors FOREVER It is a divine promise!

PRAYER

Lord God Almighty, we come boldly before Your throne of grace and mercy as we worship You in Spirit and in truth. Abba Father, in this age of deceit we pray for our spiritually ignorant and rebellious leaders and citizens who flout Your laws and ignore the principles of Your eternal Word. Holy Father, empower us as we pray in Your Spirit of Life, Truth and Light to enlighten the hearts of all Australians that they may acknowledge the reign of Christ in the Constitutional Monarchy and their duty to the Queen as Your representative over this land. Lord God, may they repent of their pride and rebellion and surrender their lives to Jesus Christ, confessing Him as Lord and Saviour and King of kings and Lord of lords of this Great Southland of the Holy Spirit.

R.A: Led by our Lord Jesus Christ through the power of the Holy Spirit to glorify the Fatherhood of God with the Brotherhood of Man; in love and in faithfulness to bring glory and honour to His holy name.

REJOICE IN COVENANT PRAYERS FULLY IN THE HOLY SPIRIT DAILY FOR AUSTRALIA'S REVIVAL.
