OUR HISTORICAL ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE

Alzheimer's is a terrible disease that not only degenerates the body but also more tragically erases a person's life memories, daily functions and complete personality. Its dire effects are magnified exponentially when an entire nation loses its historical memory. This is what has been happening to the Australian people for the last thirty years. The truth of its memory has been systematically erased from the pages of its history just as the Soviet Union did until its collapse in 1991. History is the best vehicle for vicarious experience that truly educates provincial young minds and obliges them to reason, wonder and brood about the vastness, richness and tragedy of the human condition. If well taught, history trains young minds in the rules of evidence and logic. All teachers should use only the ruler of truth to measure the merits of Australia's past against a backdrop of reason, research and profound thinking and should relate to both our successes and failures. To deny students their true history is to alienate them from their community, nation and culture. Teachers should confine their teaching to historical information, and not indoctrination or propaganda of any kind.

Disturbing Gaps

Today's students have large and disturbing gaps in their ideas of history. They inhabit a frenetic culture whose mind-numbing distractions from rap music to X-box video games and a plethora of TV sports make the study of history pale by comparison. They wander aimlessly like a generation of Alzheimer's victims who are historically ignorant and destined to lose control of their own cultural institutions. Our historical Alzheimer's did not happen in a vacuum. A myriad of conspiracies effectively derailed many history teachers from properly teaching history and undermining faith in our past and our hope for the future. For the past twenty years humanist values have been instilled into students by teachers and systems. The result has been an exclusion of traditional values and quality education based on merit and ability. The curricula of all states are being dominated by humanist ideology that has created a new emphasis on such subjects as sex education, peace studies, affirmative action and conservation. These various forces of cultural destruction have been active for some decades setting us on a prolonged spiritual and moral decline. Basically the greatest problem is that the education system has ceased to inculcate religion and moral values, respectfulness and patriotism into our youngsters, together with a plague of snakeoil peddlers who have purveyed such anti spiritual nostrums as corporatism, multiculturalism, feminism and humanism. Sadly, over the last thirty years many of our so-called statesmen, literati and leaders have turned to disparaging our nation's history and its ethos. Moreover, these depreciations have seeped through the political parties, the bureaucracy, the education system and the media where they are well-entrenched--out into the community. Consequently most of the current coterie of republicans is identified with this "New Class" and exhibit the same boiling hatred of Great Britain and unfettered anger at the Union Jack in its right-hand corner, the main cause of their fury.

Proposed Curriculum So whereabouts does that leave us now? Unfortunately, no better off. In fact, instead of waking up to our plight we are about to compound it! The Gillard Labor is now set to inflict its new proposed curriculum on all Australian children. In one fell swoop it hopes to accomplish two of its long-cherished goals: centralised socialist control from Canberra and the elimination of all knowledge of our British-Christian heritage. The new history syllabus is a complete travesty with political correctness completely dominating over the truth. It must be the most unbalanced view of our history that could ever be imagined. With 118 references to Aboriginal and Torres Strait islander people and none to our Westminster system or the Magna Carta, both central to our way of government and our laws, what else could you call it?

Embedded in our British Heritage

Make no mistake, our history is embedded in our British heritage that has long been underpinned by the Christian faith. To completely distort this basic truth by substituting it with a plethora of Aboriginal history and folklore is tantamount to an utter disregard of the truth and a blatant distortion of the real facts. Our pioneering fathers would be aghast. This is nothing short of an attempt by our left-wing politicians to destroy our heritage that will ultimately make us a rudderless people afloat in an ocean of unbelief. Instead of denigrating our heritage, our British-Christian way of life and the blessings we have long enjoyed as citizens of the British Commonwealth these traitors of our way of life these people should consider most of the world, its poverty and lack of freedom that make our nation such a desirable place that they are falling over themselves to come here.

Multicultural Array

Acting on the example of Karl Marx these leftwing advocates have infected the study of Australian history with their multicultural array of homosexual, lesbian, Aboriginal and feminist studies under the masquerade of history distorting the accuracy of our true history to the detriment of students, voters and policy makers. As cultural Marxists they subscribe to the idea of multiculturalism which holds that all cultures are basically equal. They ignore the fact that multiculturalism is a singular admission of failure in itself. It is the failure of integration and although one of its tenets is mutual respect and acceptance of other cultures, for the host population it has been and always will be, a one-way street. Don't like the indigenous culture? No problem, keep your own. We'll accommodate. Don't like some laws? Don't worry, we'll bend them to suit you. Don't want to learn the language? Easy! We'll spend millions of dollars each year getting translated for you. Indeed, don't worry about anything. We'll change our whole life to suit you. It's more than time our political leaders took stock of Australia's own multicultural policies and learnt from the history of our European colleagues before we face the same dilemma. It's high time we cast aside the false teaching that now masquerades as the truth about our history and set our students on the right path.

PRAYER

Lord God Almighty, Omniscient Father, thank You for revealing the truth of our historical Alzheimer's Disease through the ignorance of our leaders. Forgive us for flouting Your plans for our nation and cleanses us of all unrighteousness that we may become truly Your people of the Book basing our lives on its teaching in such a way to please You and so fulfil Your destiny in our lives and nation. Blessed Spirit of Truth, Love and Light constantly enlighten the hearts and minds of all our citizens from the highest to the lowest in the land. May there be a great revival across this Great Land of the Holy Spirit as countless thousands turn to You in faith and repentance. We fervently pray that the blindness that covers their eyes will be swept aside by the light of Your love and that Your Holy Spirit will guide them in their knowledge of their divine destiny and heritage. May the new history syllabus teach the students the true history of this nation and encourage them to have a personal relationship with Jesus Christ to obey His Word and glorify our Father who is in heaven. Thank You that we have been known as the Great Southland of the Holy Spirit for centuries, an inspired name given by the explorer deQiros in the 17th century and yet to be fulfilled. Amen.

R.A: Led by our Lord Jesus Christ through the power of the Holy Spirit to glorify the Fatherhood of God with the Brotherhood of Man; in love and in faithfulness to bring glory and honour to His holy name.
